

Please do not allow passengers to use cell phones. It's hard enough to get the attention of people without the added distraction of their personal conversation.

As a flight attendant I think the idea is absolutley ridiculous. As a passenger I would go crazy if I had to sit shoulder to shoulder with multiple people all trying to hold private conversations in public. Can't we all just have a break from the constant noise of everyday life?